Catching the Age in Nursing

A panel on “Catching the Age in Nursing in the 100th Year of the Republic” was organized in cooperation with UU Faculty of Health Sciences and BUU Hospital.

The panel organized in cooperation with Bursa Uludağ University Faculty of Health Sciences and Hospital was held at Prof. Dr. Mete Cengiz Cultural Center. Academicians, administrative staff and students attended the event. The panel discussed the compatibility of the nursing profession with technological transformation and the importance of digitalization.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CONTINUES WITH TECHNOLOGY

Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences Prof. Dr. Nurcan Özyazıcıoğlu emphasized that nurses are at the forefront in extraordinary situations and the importance of integrating technology into the profession. He stated that technology is more involved in training programs and that nurses are adapting to these innovations rapidly.

DIGITALIZATION WILL BRING SAFETY AND EFFICIENCY

BUU Hospital Chief Physician Prof. Dr. Halil Sağlam stated that digitalization provides security and efficiency in health services. He stated that adapting to the requirements of the digital age will create a more effective system in the nursing profession.

THE FUTURE IS STRONGER WITH UNIVERSITY-HOSPITAL COOPERATION

Chief Nurse Fatma Düzgün stated that they aim to provide the highest quality service for the society with the goal of professional development and technological adaptation. She stated that the events organized in cooperation with the university-hospital provide an important preparation for the future of the profession.
